About KINTEX

The KINTEX project was initiated and co-funded by national and local government to meet a deficiency in the domestic supply of venues for exhibitions and conventions. The main goal was to achieve the globalization of the domestic exhibitions and conventions industry. KINTEX has developed a three-story building with exhibition and convention facilities as an 8,000 ppying (211,500 square meters) indoor. It is a great opening on April 25th, after completion of the first phase in three construction projects. The most unique feature about the KINTEX exhibition facilities is that it can handle to host four exhibitions at the same time.

KINTEX is attracting and developing world class exhibitors and conventions through vigorous marketing activities, promoting it as the marktapest for high-ranked domestic and international enterprises. Phase, E: 112,500 pyung, 8 stories, with exhibition and convention facilities, includes approximately 200 visitors service.”

Hyun Jae Kim, Associate Professor,
It is my great pleasure to announce the 8th International Manufacturing Conference 2008 and Asia Display 2008 (IMID/IDMC/ASIA DISPLAY 2008). Currently, we are experiencing tremendous growth in flat panel information display industries and in implementation of such displays in our daily lives. In this IMID/IDMC/ASIA DISPLAY 2008, we are going to create new and exciting advancements in display technologies and applications, manufacturing technologies, display electronics, and components of major displays at our tutorials, workshops, technical conferences and exhibits. In summary, prospects of information display industries will be reviewed in the area of interests. The manuscripts to be published in the Technical Digest/CD-ROM of IMID/IDMC/ASIA DISPLAY 2008 will have to be submitted via electronic transmission in PDF format for the abstracts.

ABSTRACT/SUMMARY SUBMISSION

On-line Submissions using the conference web site (http://www.imid.org) is encouraged. Please prepare your abstract/summary in Adobe Acrobat (PDF) format or Microsoft Word (doc) format for the submission. Electronic transmission through e-mail to kinctex@bluewin.co.kr is also possible. If these submission methods are not available, please submit a hardcopy and CD-ROM to your home address to the conference secretariat.
